| Anderson Island, Joemma Beach, Jarrell Cove, Hope Island, a night water trail tour. | Jarrell, access to showers, site privacy @ #21   | Jarrell site #21 should be the water trail site, and priced as such. Clearly the person that decided #21 was not the W.T. site. Never arrived via paddling or actually used the sites (nos 21 & 22) | Sometimes less is more. Don't try to do too much.  | Seattle 98115 | First time at each                            | one night each             | 2                         | kayak                        | This is our first state parks visit this year. I think we end up in Forest Service and N.P. Parks usually.               |
| Eagle Island, Jarrell Cove  | Eagle Island only get there by boat  | Poison ivy. Cannot walk around island at high tide. Poison ivy growing out on beach off of tree branches.   | More mooring buoys. Only three total. Two on west side, one on east side. Anchor does not hold boat (current strong) I have seen people drift at anchor. | Auburn 98001  | 6 times a year                                | Overnight                  | 2                         | Power boat                   | Jarrell Cove   |
| Hope Island   | Mostly "natural" with some educational signs, and that you can only get there by water so there are fewer people. (like involved) Not now but keep it up, keep it natural, keep the numbers campsites there. |   | n/a  | Olympia 98502 | 2 times in 10 years, but maybe more often now | 1 afternoon                | 3                         | boat                         | No   |
| Hope Island   | The trails were wonderful. The natural character, historical features appreciated beach access very good. Enjoyed the signage, we enjoy learning.  |   |  | Allyn 98524   | This is the 1st but definitely not the last.  | 1 - 2 nights               | 2                         | other, rowboat               | We expect to...last week it was Jarrell Cove, daytrip. We often it is Stretch Island. We want to go back to Joemma soon. |
| Hope Island   | Historic & natural features, trails  | More grapevines restored in cabin area.   | No more expansion; leave natural.  | Shelton 98584 | once a year                                   | one night                  | 2 or 3                    | Kayak                        | No   |
| Hope Island   | No electricity, no cars, no dogs, it's great.  | Nothing, it's fabulous. Keep as is please   | Put up something to help string food above raccoon height.   | Tacoma 98406  | 4 x annually                                  | Some day use, some camping | 2                         | Kayak                        | No   |

| Hope Island                       | Natural setting. Trail around island, campsites isolated feel.  | I would like to have campsites located where view of water is possible. (cleanup blowdown at campsite #4) Water view from all sites if a high priority, there must be some way to do this! And not violate your other goals/rules. | Would love to have more destinations as part of Marine Trail system. | Hope Island                       | The orchard caretakers' garden, and the grape vines at the caretakers' cabin are very beneficial.  | The potable water supply is inadequate. Although the new drilled-well is a step in the right direction, rain catchment barrels should not be overlooked as a reserve/back-up system. Also possibly filtering water from the old, windpump well would be a plus. Most importantly water and hoses and working saltwater pump for fire fighting could protect this area more readily. | Signage about minimal water travel safety (float plan, equipment, etc. would be good. A tide table and current chart could help also. A garden featuring native edible and medicinal plants seems like a logical tie-in with the historical (and modern) use of this area. | Carolyon Beach 98502 | 8 - 10 times a year                           | 4 hours to 2 days     | 1                         | Cajun Pirouge (canoe)             |                                     |

| Hope Island & Jarrell Cove        | Jarrell Cove was very well kept  | Would like dogs allowed on Hope Island or at least a dog friendly area for Hope Island. We boat with our dog.   | Jarrell could have a small off-leash dog area. Would help tire dogs so they do less barking and destructive behavior.  | 98296                | First time at each                            | weekend               | 4                         | car and boat                      |                                     |

| Jarrell Cove, McMicken Island, Eagle Island, Hope Island (all visited by boat) | Jarrell: lots of mooring buoys, protection from all weathers, kayaking into inlets, picking blackberries. McMicken: mooring buoys, access to oysters and mussels and clams. For protection from weather, anchoring opportunity.   | For boaters with season park passes, have some way to register without going ashore. Difficult if we have no dinghy along. An 800 number? | Jarrell Cove, Stretch Point, McMicken Is, Eagle Island, Hope Island            | Each park is unique and seams a favorite while we're there. Of course it would be nice to walk in the woods on Eagle Island and again to have access to the top of Cutts Island. We so appreciate the buoys at each of the islands! Jarrell's Cove a favorite because of access to the marina store and laundry, as well as the state park facilities and of course protection from the elements or tidal inlets. | Maybe more buoys wherever possible or practical.  |  | Seattle 98125       | Yearly, usually several times  | overnite at each except several days at Jarrell's cove | 2                         | Sailboat                     |  |

| Joemma Beach   | Spacious creative camp sites, close facilities no matter where you stay, very clean, view from all around. Beach is beautiful, also the dock, parking is plentiful. | Real bathroom with showers  |  | Gig Harbor 98335 | 2 times / year   | 1 - 3 days  | 2  | Car, use kayak               |   |
| Joemma Beach   | Spectacular natural beauty. Quiet - smaller size than many parks. Good aerobic hiking trails. Beautiful dock and beaches.   | I'd like to see only minimal use of leaf blowers and weed cutters. Let the pine cones and leaves stay on the road. Hearing the buzz of the machines for several hours is like hearing a dentist's grinding tool. | I'd also like to see a rule where any dog barking for more than 5 minutes must be muzzled. Too often, between the sound of barking dogs, loud music from campers and the blowers and cutters, there is no peace and quiet in the park. When music and dogs are loud, I'd like to see park staff ask them to try and be quieter. how about a short list of park etiquette rules posted? Advise and remind people how sounds and voices carry across to other campers. | Tacoma 98406     | Once a week - during tent camping season   | 2 - 4 days; 30 days total this year   | One  | Car                          | No  |
| Joemma Beach & Penrose. But we always camp at Joemma | We like the natural features. (very pretty) The facilities are always clean. And it quite. I am from California and love the ocean.                                 | Nothing really. We like everything  | Maybe a shower!  | Spanaway 98387   | We come here a lot (about 6 years now) it's the only campground that's open all year long. | We camp about 5 or 6 times in the summer time. We also camp during the winter, if it's not too cold. We usually stay for the weekend, depending on what time of the year it is. | Anywhere from 4 to 6 people and our dog Powder | Car/light truck              | Yes! Penrose and Joemma Beach, we like to fish. |

| Joemma Beach and Penrose          | We go to Joemma all the time because of the great campground and the pier. The crabbing is really good and the staff is very helpful. It's our favorite place.  | This place could really use some showers and some sites with power and water.                                | See above                                | Port Angeles, 98362 | About 8 or 9 times a year to camp and lots of time just for the day. | Camp a weekend        | 4                             | Car/light truck               | No, visit Penrose today, but like it here much better.                           |

| Penrose Point                     | We always come to Penrose Point because we can reserve campsites. It's a beautiful park! It's always clean and it is easy beach access for day use. Penrose is nicely situated among the trees. The sites are groomed without losing their natural appearance. Park staff are friendly and helpful. We truly love coming here. It is our favorite park to camp! | Soap in the restrooms please. I believe "State" parks should support good public health practices.  | Would be nice if the picnic tables in the day use area were covered. It can get pretty hot out there. Due to health issues we cannot be in direct sun light so picnicking down there is not an option for us. | Auburn 98002     | 2 - 4 times a year   | 2 - 4 nights                                       | 2 - 4                     | Light truck                            | Not usually - would like to visit Joemma for a day trip   |
| Penrose Point                     | Junior ranger program, hiking trails  | Campsite map could have more accurate placement of restroom locations. Our site (#25) is sort of in the middle of all the restrooms and it was hard to locate the nearest one. Trails to restrooms on the map should be included too. |   | Puyallup 98372   | 1 time a year  | Weekend  | 3                         | Car/van                                | No, but will visit Joemma today.  |
| Penrose Point                     | Campsite, flushing toilets, trails, privacy among multisite areas. | Penrose Point                     | Natural features - beautiful GREAT beach, grass and picnic area. Lots of nice tables - enough for everyone. Clean, well kept. Love the recycling barrels through camp. Great trails. | Privacy at campsites. More water taps. Hookups (electric, water). |                                 | Issaquah 98027   | 1st visit                   | Weekend               | 4                         | truck with trailer           | Seaquest, Scenic Beach, Lincoln Rock, Wenatchee-Confluence |
